Never Let Go

Josh Groban

I can't understand it
The search for an answer is met with a darker day
And we've been handed these moments forever
But I'm reassured there's another way
You don't have to close your eyes, there is room for love again
Ease the pain to realize all that love can be Forced apart by time and sand, take a step and take my hand
And don't let it go, never let go
Broken, once connected
We were so strong and so blessed in a simple way
So don't let me go it alone
Turn your head up to the sky, nothing down below but me

Face the truth to realize all that we could be
Torn apart by rage and fear
Hold on to what brought you here
Don't let it go, never let go
Turn your head up to the sky
Nothing down below but me
Face the truth to realize all that we could be
Turn your head up to the sky, nothing down below
Don't let go
