If You Talk Too Much (My Head Will Explode)

People In Planes

I don't want you to try and save me,
No I don't want you at all,
If we're through, then you don't blame me,
'Cause that won't do at all

If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode

You've no time to reconcile me,
There's no time left to call,
And I'll take my share, and then I'll vanish,
I want my share, that's all.

If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode

Can't complain, I feel sly
You can get up and go

I don't want you to try and save me,
No I don't want you at all

If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode

Explode, explode

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by JONES, GARETH
Lyrics Â© Chrysalis One Music

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/