In Your Hands

Javier

In your hands, my life begins and ends
All that I am, I surrender to you
I've never felt so weak and yet so strong
I am home where I belong
I was afraid of losing everything
Now I'm amazed 'cause all I ever wanted
Was to lose myself in youIn your hands, I place my trembling heart
All of my dreams lead me to you
Now the tears of yesterday is gone
I've let go of holding on
There's a place where all my journeys end
Where my broken soul can mend
Here I stand, there's nothing in my way
So I put my faith in you
I will give my all to you
My heart has, at last, learned to dance
In your hands
In your handsI know that I am home
And I'll never be alone
All that I am
Is in your hands
My life begins and ends
