In a Heartbeat

Deana Carter

I can't ignore the voices in my head
The things we never said hunting me down
I feel like I've found myself in pieces on the floor
More broken than before I let you downYou can lose someone in a heartbeat
You can lose yourself in a memoryLook at me now, I'm going insane
I'm looking back at what remains
What have I done, was it in vain?
Can you forgive me once again?
Say you'll do that, and I'd take it back
In a heartbeatI can't avoid the will to fall apart
To stop before I start living again
I try to pretend I'm not afraid to set you free
To push you out to sea to wait for the windYou can lose someone in a heartbeat
You can lose yourself in a memoryLook at me now going insane
I'm looking back at what remains
What have I done, was it in vain?
Can you forgive me once again?
Say you'll do that, and I'd take it back
In a heartbeatWhat have I done, was it in vain?
Can you forgive me again?
I'd take it back, if you'd say you'll do that
In a heartbeat
