Soul Inspiration

Anita Baker

If I lost you now it would take my heart from me
I can't imagine life without the love of you, baby
Lately I confess, I've been short on tenderness
Too much time on work I guess, not enough for youNow if I forgot to tell you "I love you"
I really got no excuse, no excuseBecause you're beautiful, my one desire
You're my soul's inspiration
And if I didn't say it then I do now
You're my sweet inspiration, baby, babyIf I'm feeling low, I've only got myself to blame
'Cause I can always share the load when I'm near you
You can rescue me, baby, you bring out the best in me
I'm the girl I wanna be when I'm near youI may need reminding to say "I love you"
But Heaven knows that I do, yes I doBecause you're beautiful, my one desire
You're my sweet sensation
And if I didn't say it then I do now
You're my soul's inspirationBecause you're beautiful, my one desire
You're my sweet sensation
And if I didn't say it, baby, I do now
You're my soul's inspirationFrom the day I met you, baby
Yes, I knew instinctively
Whatever our future
Together we were gonna be, babyBecause you're beautiful, my one desire
You're my sweet sensation
And if I didn't say it then I do now
You're my soul's inspirationBecause you're beautiful, my one desire
And if I didn't say it then I do now
Because you're beautiful, my one desire
And if I didn't say it then I do now
