Like You Do (feat. Rosemary Butler)

Neil Diamond

(sung with rosemary butler) written by: sandy knox and steve rosenLove never doubts or suffers or cries
Love shows no fear, love tells no lies
And love will never leave me in the dark
No, love never breaks my heart
Like you do, like you doLove doesn't have unapproachable walls
Or a heart that beckons and then withdraws
And love would never steal my dignity
Love has never made a fool of me
Like you do, like you doOh, and I have known times
When love seems unsure
But when love is unkind
It is not love anymoreLove never threatens of frightens me
It's not held together with apologies
Love never screams my name
No, and love never turns away
Like you do, like you doAnd I have known times
When love seems unsure
But when love maybe unkind
Love never turns away
Like you do, like you doLike you do, like you do
