Resistor

Alisha's Attic

You are the stars above my head
You are everything, I've no safety net
And I accept I'm addicted to this kissBreathless and intense you consume me
Like you've found a growing space
And I have no defenseThen my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
The resistor has been breaking down inside meYou are the stake I'd never bet
Till I had this dream that we were wed
And it was something I felt quite easy aboutFunny that I'm not scared
Not a bit
Of giving everything for the first timeThen my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside meIt's too late, it's too late, it's too late
It's too late, it's too late, it's too late, it's too lateThen my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside meThen my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
