Where Were You

Evan & Jaron

Softly I hear you call and surely you're after it all
You tell me you know just who I am
That's a felony 'cause no one canI can only look back when I stand all on my own
I know a friend and I'll tell you when I see one
I'm reaching back again can I make it if I runWhere were you when I was naked in the cold
Where were you when my thoughts were growing old
Where were youThe train has left the station with no chartered destination
If you don't have a ticket in your hand it's too late to ride
'Cause I've already closed the ticket standWhere were you when I was naked in the cold
Where were you when my thoughts were growing old
Where were youSoftly I hear you call and surely you're after it all
You tell me you know just who I am
That's a felony 'cause no one canAnd theres something that I really want to know
Its building up inside where did you goWhere were you when I was naked in the cold
Where were you when my thoughts were growing old
Where were you
