Sixteenth Century Greensleeves

Rainbow

It's only been an hour
Since he locked her in the tower
The time has come
He must be undone
By the morningMany times before
The tyrant's opened up the door
Then someone cries
Still we close our eyes
Not againMeet me when the sun is in the western skies
The fighting must begin before another someone dies
Cross bows in the fire light
Greensleeves waving
Madman raving
Through the shattered nightFlames are getting higher
Make it leap unto the spire
Draw bright down
Cut it to the ground
We shall dance around the fire
