Time Will Tell

The Right Ons

I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell 'cause this is over
Only time will tell
'Cause I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell 'cause this is over, over
I said things I shouldn't have said
But I know all feelings aren't dead
So forgive me is all I can say
And maybe you might one day
I tripped us up and fell right over you
So how can I turn one back to two?
Or have I just left you much too long
For me to right so many wrongs?
When I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell 'cause this is over
Only time will tell
'Cause I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell 'cause this is over, over
I said things I never meant
Now I'm on my knees so just let me repeat
And I promise this time I'll be true, I swear
So just take me back if you'll dare
And just take back what's left of this man
And he'll try his best that he can

But I don't really want to force you, though
If fear is stopping you from letting go
I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell 'cause this is over
Only time will tell
'Cause I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell 'cause this is over, over
I can't remove the pain I've made
It was the biggest mistake
Are you strong enough this time
To give me one last try?
I can't remove the pain I've made
It was the biggest mistake
Am I strong enough this time

To give one last try?
Oh yeah, one last try
Are you strong enough this time?
And I lost my girl and I lost my world
And I know I fell, it is over
Only time will tell
'Cause I lost my girl and I lost my world
And know I fell 'cause
