

Let You Go (Evan Berg Remix)

The Chainsmokers

You end up alone after all that you've done
All that you've paid for
Did you get what you wanted?
Loaded the gun with all you were made of
When you're alone,
People don't think you know what you're made of, oh
You've been with me,
It's not up to see, it's all that you paid for I'll find a way up, see you through what came to pay for While we're alive, can we relax that, what are maids for
You were there for me
And I was there for you
No-oh, never let you go!
You will always be the one that I regret
How will I let you go? You're here in the way
How could you stay after that you've paid for
Leave it in time, won't let you wait
How could you be assured?
You're holding out hope
I'm seeing it too, trying to find home
I think I'm back again
And I've come to understand my will
You tell me that I can't pretend
I hear that you care about your stuff,
But the most of things might feel rough
Let you go
Hol-holding out hope for you
Holding out hope
Holding out hope for you
You were there for me
And I was there for you
No-oh, never let you go!
You will always be the one that I regret
How will I let you go? Let you go!
Let you go!
Let you go!
Let you go!
Hol-holding out hope for you!
Holding out hope for you
Holding out hope for you
You were there for me
And I was there for you
Oh oh, I remember times like that!
You will always be the one that I really love
Oh oh, never let you go! Let you go!

Let you go!

Let you go!

Let you go!

Let you go!
