When the World Is Ending

Jerry Leger

When the world is ending will you wonder where I am?
If I'm all alone or I got me a new special friend
When the world is ending will you want me back in it again?
Well, you threw me away like I was just some broken junk
In the dark side of the city, that's where I've been waking up
I ain't the begging type, just gotta know what it is I've done
I don't need other women, just need something I can use
'cause you'd rather feed me poison
Then see me with a good meal or two
Ya, you're gone and going further
What's a young boy like me to do?
I don't think I was so bad, so bad on your mind
I gave you good loving, well it was good most of the time
When I hear you talk now, I just keep catching you in foolish lies
I gave you all the gold, all the gold I could find on this earth
And all your prized processions
They don't show what you're really worth
Ya, you leave me with nothing
Not even false hope
When the world is ending will you wonder where I am?
If I'm thinking about you too or I got me a new special friend
When the world is ending, will you want me one last time again?
