A Song

And Selby Jase

More than motion, more than hope
More than love unties my rope
Each breath a fight when morning calls
More than love can feel my fallsSo calculate each feeble limb
Stand by me through all my sin
Exceed my needs when I've done wrong
The battles bleed into, bleed into a single songA song
A song
A song
A songCome bind the light of two
Inside of me and youNights have fallen long before
On those nights I've hit the floor
Into the night my silence screams
And calm is taken as it seemsBut known to me a soul who knows
Power of these darkened blows
Standing in my mirrored world
The battles bleed into, bleed into a single songA song
A song
A song
A songCome bind the light of two
Inside of me and youI want to see through your eyes sometimes
So that I won't mind when you're wrong sometimes
I want to see through your eyes sometimes
So that I won't mind when you're wrong sometimesI'm wrong sometimes I'm wrong sometimesCome bind the light of two Inside of me and you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/