The World Is Gray (Oculus Remix)

Bang Gang

You wake up in the night and you feel
Like everything around you is so real
You cannot find the day and let go
Of all the things that touched you from within
Of all the things that make you feel so unrealThe world is gray
You're all alone
Maybe if someone helps you home
The emptiness
That brings you down
Keeps you searching for the ground
You're searching for the groundYou look up to the light and you feel
How certainly it's easier to breathe
The echos of the past fade away
You're happy to believe in another day
You're happy that you're living another way
The world is gray
You're all alone
Maybe if someone helps you home
The emptiness
That brings you down
Keeps you searching for the groundThe world is gray
You're all alone
Maybe if someone helps you know
The emptiness
That brings you down
Keeps you searching for the ground
You're searching for the groundThe sun keeps shining behind the crowd
And you wait till it burns them down
And you know that you'll find the right one
You're stuck with darkness until it breaks up
The sun keeps shining behind the crowd
And you wait till it burns them down
And you know that you'll find the right one
You're stuck with darkness until it breaks up
Until you break upThe world is gray
You're all alone
Maybe if someone helps you home
The emptiness
That brings you down

Keeps you searching for the groundThe world is gray
You're all alone
Maybe if someone helps you home
The emptiness
That brings you down
Keeps you searching for the ground
You're searching for the ground
You're searching for the ground
You're searching for the ground
