About You

San Cisco

Cliches, are what we say
When words don't even matter
Sweet tooth
For a liar
I only wish I never met her
Confusion, I know we'll lose it
Touch, with one another
So keep up
You'll need some good luck
Running from what you can't imagineThis is not about me
It's more about you and what you're going through
This is not about us
This is more about how you're doing what you wanna doI hope you realise
That this is real life
You're not looking for some truth
You're selecting the proof
To sue you
And I can take you out of the stratosphere
Oh up there the air is clear
I can take you anywhere you like
You know I never get it right
You know, oh woah oh oh
You're driving this one so take it slowThis is not about me
It's more about you and what you're going through
This is not about us
It's more about how you're doing what you wanna doYou never really ever care
He was never really ever there
Why do you hesitate
Let go give into it
It's not about the things you say
I do not feel this emptiness
It hurts too much
To really let go
Oh woah oh oh [x4]This is not about me
It's more about you and what you're going through
This is not about us
It's more about how you're doing what you wanna do
This is not about me
It's more about you and what you're going through

This is not about us
It's more about how you're doing what you wanna do
