Nothing's Wrong

Echosmith

We walk like there's nothing wrongShe's sitting alone in the chair
She covers her eyes with her hair
She smokes one last cigarette
And waits for the whole world to turnShe's loving the smell in the air
She'd stop but she really doesn't care
What's she to do waiting for the whole world to burn
'Cause kids like us
We don't know when to stopWe walk, we walk
We just keep walking
We move, we move
We just keep moving on
We sing, we sing
We sing out this all through our lungs
We walk, we walk
We walk like nothing's wrong
We walk like there's nothing wrongHe places a rose in her hair
She stops for a moment and stares
Her beauty is a wonder
Makes him forget about the end
'Cause when it's all over
Who's really gonna careWe walk, we walk
We just keep walking
We move, we move
We just keep moving on
We sing, we sing
We sing out this all through our lungs
We walk, we walk
We walk like nothing's wrong
We walk like there's nothing wrongWe're gonna walk (oh)
We're gonna walk (oh)
We're gonna walk (oh)
We're gonna walk (oh)We walk, we walk
We just keep walking
We move, we move
We just keep moving on
We sing, we sing
We sing out this all through our lungs
We walk, we walk
We walk like nothing's wrong

We walk like there's nothing wrongWe walk like there's nothing wrong
We walk like there's nothing wrong
