Where Is Your Heart

Redbone

Fire's above, ice is below
Loyalty so friendly is cold
Where is your heart, why don't you know?
You didn't hold tight, you let goOut of your mind you drift away
Red brown is nay, black's just okay
Where is your heart, why don't you know?
Is that the real you that you feel?In your design I can't find mine
Courage and tears were left behind
In a world belonging to me
Oh, this world belonging to meIf you can hear me and my fear
'Cause what I say came down that way
Where is your heart, why don't you know?
Can you erase behind your face?
In your design I can't find mine
Courage and tears were left behind
In a world belonging to me
Oh, this world belonging to me
