For Sure

Mr Master Mix

If I can walk a 1000 miles a day, I try
To do it 'cause I don't know if you really say
I think I saw the sky tonight pushing through it feels alright
And I just don't know who I want to be
And every time I see your face, I laugh out loud
Acting hot you're fitting in with all the crowd
If I could I'd stop the time, ask you for a clever line
And just because I know that you won't give it to me
It's raining hard again here now
That'll never change
Let's start a war, so who's to blame
When it ends it starts to rain down
At times I think that all I need is summer sun
Burning in my eyes and breaking through the trees
At times I feel my place is empty, it looks as though I never met me
But my smile does only show one side of me

And I can show you a little slice of everyone
Laughing in the dark, I think you're having fun
The sunlight in your face that time washes away all the grime
Makes me forget just how much I hate you tonight
It's raining hard again here now
That'll never change
Let's start a war so who's to blame
When it ends it starts to rain down
Yeah, yeah, yeah, start a war
Yeah, yeah, yeah, starts war
Let's start a war so who's to blame
When it starts to rain, starts to rain
Starts to rain, starts to rain
Starts to rain down
