Long Way Down

Enchant

Dark day in paradise
Tantalized by my eyes mislead
This one you've got to see
And her gaze, it is set on meNot like I would push the brink
But it sure makes me thinkMaybe I need a change
Otherwise would my eyes so stray
A choice is taunting me
And it knocks on my door todayNot like any vows were bent
Just a glance, it's innocentLong way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mendTake it from me, it's never worth the costBeen down that road before
And demise is where it leads
The grass looks emerald green
But believe me, it's just the weedsNot like I have crossed the line
Owed her a lunch and a valentineIt's propagation man
Don't you know that a guy has needs
What separates us then
From those things that are scratching fleas?Am I just a sounding board?
Were you hoping for accord?Long way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mendTake it from me, it's never worth the cost
I just cringe thinking what I could have lost
It seems you're looking for consent to do the sameWhere's your memory? Don't you remember me?
The weight of agony that crushed me flat
Are you impervious or just too curious?
Don't you remember what it did to the cat?Guess what I did today
Now I fear there's no turning back
Hey, next time you need advice
Check the zodiacNot like I didn't warn
Buckle up, enjoy the stormLong way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mendLong way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mendLong way down

What's it gonna be, what's it gonna be, my friend?
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mendLong way down
What's it gonna be, my friend?
Turn around
