Dumb Dumb

Rachel Stevens

You're dreaming about a girl
Who lives her life in plastic
A secret kind of world
It sounds a lot fantastic, yeahShe lets you think that she's acting kind of stupid
Looks good in pink and she knows just how to use it
Her dance with diamonds brings a sparkle to the music
Her laugh is sweeping under her skinAnd all she wants is love
And all she wants is dumb da da dumb
Searching for a touch
That's more than just a dumb-da-da-dumbHides behind her heart
And all we see is dumb-da-da-dumb
You could give her love, love, love
LoveBehind the mascaraed
Between the smoke and mirrors
Her tear drops will explode
Into the night that glitters, yeahYou see she sacrificed her image for her beauty
But looking deeper you can see that she's unhappy
You can kiss her, you can wake her from her sadness
Her laugh is living under her skinAnd all she wants is love
And all she wants is dumb da da dumb
Searching for a touch
That's more than just a dumb da da dumbHides behind her heart
And all we see is dumb da da dumb
You could give her love, love, love
Love, love, loveHer laugh is living under her skinAnd all she wants is love
And all she wants is dumb-da-da-dumb
Searching for a touch
That's more than just a dumb-da-da-dumbHides behind her heart
And all we see is dumb-da-da-dumb
You could give her love, love, love
You could give her love, love, love
