Don't Call Me Baby

Geri Halliwell

Do you think about me Like I think about you? As these nights grow colder Do you think about us All the love that was lost? Looking back as we grow older Would you cry if I die? Either way nothing changes And just remember Don't call me baby, baby Just because you can Don't call me lady, boy You ain't that kind of man Don't call me sugar, honey You've never done before It's just too little, too late This baby's at the door Do you wish that you cared? Maybe you were too scared To show me what you're feeling Did you run out of time With me on your mind? Didn't we have no meaning? Would you bleed if I leave? Either way nothing changes And just remember Don't call me baby, baby Just because you can Don't call me lady, boy You ain't that kind of man Don't call me sugar, honey You've never done before It's just too little, too late This baby's at the door Come on, come on Come on, come on, come on Don't you cry no more Come on, come on Come on, come on, come on

Get up off the floor Don't call me baby, baby Just because you can Don't call me lady, boy You ain't that kind of man Don't call me sugar, honey You've never done before It's just too little, too late This baby's at the door Don't call me baby, baby (Don't call me baby) Just because you can Don't call me lady, boy (Don't call me lady) You ain't that kind of man Don't call me sugar, honey (Don't call me sugar) You've never done before It's just too little, too late This baby's at the door Don't call me baby, baby (Don't call me baby) Just because you can Don't call me lady, boy (Don't call me lady) You ain't that kind of man Don't call me sugar, honey (Don't call me sugar) You've never done before It's just too little, too late This baby's at the door
