I Been Gone A Long Time

MC Goldie Wilson

What we're doing is so wrong
And what you're wearing is so right, it's so tight
But I've never felt better, so I'm going out to get her
And I don't care, I don't care what set of wheels I steal to get thereBalance is a minor setback, what she thinks is all right
And the way she looks is just fine
She sure as hell ain't you, but Lord knows she'll have to do
She don't know I'm alive but neither do I so there's nothing left to loseIf I could only make it make you want to want me
One more drink, I think should doI wish that I could say, I love to watch you walk away
But you probably won't be back in time to hear it
So it's just as well, no one out there gets back in alive
So I'll love the way you stand so close to a guy
Who we both know can't get near itStrike when ready, burn the highway
Strike when ready, burn the highway
Strike when ready, burn the highway
Strike when ready, burn the highway
Let me hear her high heels moanI'm ready, I'm ready, set, go
There's cocaine in the key that took us
From the bar to her car to the bedroomOnly the lonesome love us, only the careless can handle us
Only the lonesome love us, what's wrong with us that we're so unamused?
Only the lonesome love us, only the careless can handle us
Only the lonesome love us, what's wrong with us that we're so unamused?
Only the lonesome love us, only the careless can handle us
Only the lonesome love us, what's wrong with us that we're so unamused?
Only the lonesome love us, only the careless can handle us
