Sound the Alarm

T.JAY

I don't know where to go Ain't no light along the road stumbling under the stars above Somehow feel someone's stare turn around nobody there never knowing if I'm all alone cause paranoia is the only friend that I know and everybody else is gone their eyes are burning into my heart fall and feeling fear I can't go on and nobody will sound the alarm Sit around late at night sitting by the fireside planning out to bury me alive and when I'm done they all will laugh about how I died.

Cause everybody else is gone
their eyes are burning into my heart we'll fall and feeling fear I can't go on
and nobody will sound the alarm
In the darkness of my mind I hear a voice that seems to sigh I'm going to die before I save myself
And everybody else is gone
Their eyes are burning into my heart
we'll fall and feeling fear I can't go on
and nobody will sound the alarm we'll fall and fearing fear I can't go on and nobody will sound the alarm
