To Be Young In NYC

SKATERS

Girl your not on the phone
So why your talking so loud you seem a little too proud what the hell are you all aboutHe's gotta place on ninth street
She aint been home in a week
Let's go meet up with our friends and have a smoke in the heap Don't be nervous who's gonna tell
There's no one around, but meTo be young in New York City
To be young in New York CityOn the train last week I bumped into my friends said there's a party near the pier I hoped she might be there oh did you hear about him and his little broken heart
They said that he was untrue
I heard she fucked half the blockTo be young in New York City
To be young in New York CityA generation of jokes Directionless, on our feet
So take a seat on the curb
I got no place to be
She said what are your goals
Where are your ambitious needs
Well I guess they must be in my other jeansTo be young in New york city
To be young in New york city
To be young in New york city
To be young in New york cityWhile you sit on the phone You cant be who you want to become
When your rich and young
When your rich and young
When your rich and dumb
When your rich and young

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/