I'm Not Backing Down

Holland

Take another shot at me and See what I'll turn out to be
'Cause I'm not giving up
There's no such luckI don't need a getaway
An easy out, another day
You've not got the best of me
Wait and seeThe situations more complex
And I don't know what might come next
But I've got nothing else to loseCan't you see that I'm not backing down?
You should know this by now, know this by now
It's easier the second time around
You should know this by now, know this by nowYou know I've heard this all before
But I keep coming back for more
'Cause love can't live long bound
You'll come aroundFantasies are bittersweet and
I cannot admit defeat
To open ended lies
Don't be surprisedThe situations more complex
And I don't know what might come next
But I've got nothing left to loseCan't you see that I'm not backing down?
You should know this by now, know this by now
It's easier the second time around
You should know this by now, know this by nowYou'll never need another thing
When there's nothing left to lose
You'll never need another thingCan't you see that I'm not backing down?
You should know this by now, know this by now
It's easier the second time around
You should know this by now, know this by nowCan't you see that I'm not backing down?
You should know this by now, know this by now
It's easier the second time around
You should know this by now, know this by nowKnow this by now, know this by now
Know this by now that I'm not backing down
