Leftwatch

Submarine Fleet

Seething away,
and twice removed, away.
A pocket watch I never see.

Wanting everything, for me to stop moving..

I've smashed at the lines
and battered the wires
and scattered the eyes
Mad at the distance.

I'm leaving the circle,
I've lost my alone.

I remember you, how we smiled.
From exploding winter trees
to lengthwise rain and flowers.
Oh, how we smiled.

Waiting for everything
I never see
A pocket watch
A memory
For me to stop moving.
Waiting for everything
I never see
A pocket watch
A memory.

Lyrics submitted by noone.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/