Nobody's Off the Hook

Rufus Wainwright

Haven't fallen down in a while
Sitting here, walking the line
Well that's okay, I ain't no book
'Cause nobody's off the hookSee you're looking so sad
Trying to live your life in style
Well that's okay, you ain't no crook
'Cause nobody's off the hookI remember you when looking like a teenager
How you have become a man with all the power
Running the moon agroundWho would ever have thought
Hanging with a homo and hairdresser
You would become the one desired
In every woman's heartBut you never will lose
Your heart with those little boysHaven't fallen down in a while
Sitting here, walking the line
Well that's okay 'cause I have looked
And nobody's off the hook'Cause life will take that little heart
And bring you to your knees
Threatening to break it for the final timeAnd you'll believe it
Yes, you will believe it
But look, nobody's off the hook
