Clear

Dames

And my mind was confusion
Like thoughts of clouds in the sky
Wanted to touch the water
So I could feel that high
That day was so full of bliss
I feared the coming of night
And I had to feel my tears
As they burned my eyes so alive
Take my mind out
So I can be clear
The pure blue skies
It seemed to kill the tears
It seemed to kill these tears
And her mind is confusion
The dots that eat the blue sky
They never understand me
And never have even tried
I just wanted to be lost
So I could see what's inside
Nothing to say to you people
You remain so fucking blind
Take my mind now
So I can be clear
The pure blue skies
It seemed to kill the tears
Take my mind now
And it's confusion
Black and blue skies
One day I will be
One day I will be
One day I will be clear
One day I will be clear
So when mind's clear from confusion
Like a blue cloudless sky
There'll be nothing to say to you people
You're forever fucking blind
Take my mind now
So I can be clear
Dark and blue skies

It seemed to kill the tears
Take my mind now
And it's confusion
Black and blue skies
