Going Public

Newsboys

She's been dazed and induced
Wants a part-time God for her private use
But she won't take a stand
'Cause she might get tagged as a closet Jesus fanSign on, the time is drawing near
This is surely a banner year
To be a public witnessSign on, the lines are drawn and clear
There's no straddling fences here
We're going public with thisHe's displaced and unglued
Scared that faith in God could be misconstrued
But the cross makes him wish
That this spine was more than a school of jellyfishSign on, the time is drawing near
This is surely a banner year
To be a public witnessSign on, the lines are drawn and clear
There's no straddling fences here
We're going public with thisSign on, the time is drawing near
This is surely a banner year
To be a public witnessSign on, the lines are drawn and clear
There's no straddling fences here
We're going public with thisSign on, the time is drawing near
This is surely a banner year
To be a public witnessSign on, the lines are drawn and clear
There's no straddling fences here
We're going public with this
