Frozen Ashes

Suburban Tribe

I couldn stay nothing more for me to say inside I feel things words can explainI won hurt no more I built a shockproof exterior there so much I can ever let showAnd when the last breath of smoke is fading into the cold moonlight there nothing left to hide but
frozen ashes
when the last breath of smoke
there nothing left to hide it time to leave it all behindI don belong I was told to move along tried to fit in I was proven wrongall the words left unsaid and all the letters torn up unsent buried alive in my head
