Brave New World

Hedley

Hello, I love you, won't you tell me your name?
Hello, I need you like a bullet to my brain
It seems I'm never breaking free
While you sit and watch me bleed
When the night falls there's nowhere to go
I won't let you in, let you see me cry
I can't give you that satisfaction this time
Do you really get what you need
Beating the hell out of me?
I'm so tired of getting up off the floor
I won't take this anymore
I won't take this anymore
So low but still breathing funny how you show you care
Is hell still beneath me? Or am I already there?
It seems I'm never breaking free
While you sit and watch me bleed
When the night falls there's no where to go
I won't let you in let you see me cry
I can't give you that satisfaction this time
Do you really get what you need
Beating the hell out of me?
I'm so tired of getting up off the floor
I won't take this anymore
All that's left in this brave new world
Is ticking clocks and dancing girls
And broken hearts to find another way to shut it all out
Take some time in life to see
This point of view from on your knees
Electric hearts will play a song
You've heard a thousand times, a thousand times
I won't let you, won't let you see me cry
I can't give you that satisfaction this time
And do you really get what you need
Beating the hell out of me?
You're never gonna spread your disease
So get your hands off of me
I'm so tired of getting up off the floor
I won't take this anymore
I won't take this anymore
