Fire Of Unknown Origin

Blue Ã·yster Cult

Death comes sweeping through the hallway, like a lady's dress
Death comes driving down the highway, in it's Sunday best

A fire of unknown origin took my baby away
A fire of unknown origin took my baby away

Swept to ruin off my wavelength, swallowed her up
Like the ocean in a fire, so thick and gray

A fire of unknown origin took my baby away
A fire of unknown origin took my baby away

Death comes driving, I can't do nothing! Death goes.
There must be something, there must be something that remains
Something something

A fire of unknown origin took my baby away
A fire of unknown origin took my baby away
