Small Change

Verden Allen

Well I thought about it
Well I didn't think twice
No room left in my life for you
What did your world come to?
But thank ya, 'cuz I made it through
Right into the light and this here
Is not the last song that I'll ever write about cha
Good-bye I wish ya well
But this time you've lost
Your mind boy, can't you tell
You must be sorta deranged
And your worth is less than small change
To cry back to me is more than insane
And your worth is less than small change
Now that I got my ish right without you
You come back inside with news
You want me to share my views
Get that picture, take a look
And close your book, that's my advice
Let's just be friend's
That's better and its quite alright, you got that Look here, there is no way that I'm comin' back
And that's a fact, don't beg me to stay
You must be sorta deranged
And your worth is less than small change
To cry back to me is more than insane
And your worth is less than small change
You must be sorta deranged
And your worth is less than small change
To cry back to me is more than insane
And your worth is less than small change
There's no comin' back boy, boy
Something's mighty strange boy, with you
Strange boy
You must be sorta deranged
And your worth is less than small change
To cry back to me is more than insane
And your worth is less than small change
You must be sorta deranged

And your worth is less than small change
To cry back to me is more than insane
And your worth is less than small change

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/