Where Romeo Never Dies

Billie Myers

Romeo never diesLove letters from Shakespeare, handwritten just last year
The meanings gone but the point's still clear
Well, I'm unfashionably tongue tied on a tightrope of fine line
Be careful, read the warning signsI'm gonna make you jealous, I'm gonna make you nervous
I'm gonna make you wish you'd never started this
I'm gonna make you anxious, yeah, so anxious
You'll be safely insecure with meWhere Romeo never dies and Juliet she never cries, oh no
When you think it's all over, I'll look with a smile
'Cause Romeo never dies, Romeo never diesYou're regrettably inclined to my dangerously safe side
Sometimes I walk where the sun don't shine
But if something is certain, then the waiting is no fun
So don't melt the ice I'm walking onI'm gonna make you jealous, I'm gonna make you nervous
I'm gonna make you wish you'd never started this
I'm gonna make you anxious, yeah, so anxious
Where you'll be safely insecure with meWhere Romeo never dies and Juliet she never cries, oh yeah
When you think it's over, I'll look with a smile
'Cause Romeo never dies, Romeo never dies
Oh no, Romeo never, never, never, never dies
Perfectly floored by youI'm gonna make you jealous, I'm gonna make you nervous
He'll make you wish you'd never started thisWhere Romeo never dies and Juliet she never cries, oh yeah
When you think it's over, I'll look with a smile
'Cause Romeo never dies, Romeo never dies, oh no
Romeo never, never, never, never cries
Not evenSatisfaction, that's the death of desire
Satisfaction, that's the death of desire
I'm jealous, I'm nervous, it's okay
Sometimes being good feels bad
Satisfaction, satisfaction
Satisfaction is the death of desire
