Heal In Time

Dark New Day

There's something every day that keeps on pulling at me
Mental pictures of a firing line
You put me in that place with no one there to get me out
Missing chances just to speak my mindMy oh my, it's so hard to pass byThis time, I'm all right but something is broken
But, will it heal in time?
It's all right, words that were spoken leave a mark
And change your mindIt's not too hard to see, you left this inside me
This new emotion that I didn't know I needed
Thank you for teaching me that I could never trust you
The day will come when I can ask you whyMy oh my, it's so hard to pass byThis time, I'm all right but something is broken
But, will it heal in time?
It's all right, words that were spoken leave a mark
And change your mindThis time, I'm all right but something is broken
But, will it heal in time?
It's all right, words that were spoken leave a mark
And change your mind
Change your mindWill it heal in time?
Will it heal in time?
Will it heal in time?
Will it heal in time?
