Your Beautiful Mind

Kevin Max

The question is, where did this begin
Who authored and who finished it?
Such a beautiful world, but such a twisted plan
For it to end before we really lived in itOh, tell me why is this is happening?
Oh, tell me should I believe in anything?And I find your beautiful mind in everything
But everything can't make me believe
I find your beautiful eyes see everything
So show me something beautiful, pleaseCorporations rise as the working man will fall
We bit the apple, now the apple's eating us
We want our 15 minutes and then we want it all
And watch our own image bleeding usOh, I feel so cold and I'm growing old
So come on now just finish itOh, tell me what's the purpose of love anyway?
She looks the best when she just walks awayAnd I find your beautiful hands make everything
And everything is all I need
I find your beautiful eyes see everything
So show me something beautiful please(I cannot figure it)
Oh, tell me Lord
(I cannot get into it)
Please show me Lord
Oh, let me see YouIs there a code that I can't crack?
My life is slipping right off the tracks
Don't even know if I want it back
So take it away from meAnd I find your beautiful mind in everything
And everything is all I needI find your beautiful eyes see everything
So show me something beautiful
I find your beautiful eyes see right through me
So show me what you want me to be
