Love Sick Fool

Matthew Santos

Been wracking my brain of this slingin' out my wits and then it seems I always miss I think I got a heart now and i'm ready to reach out again at the risk of my dismissalWell I can make it happen
I know i've been thinking 'bout moving on home
Give all this life that I love to live with the love of my life
Give it all willinglyCuz i'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick foolWell i'm throwing my heart against the wall to see if it'll bounce back and love me again
What a strange thing for a man to do, but it was something I needed to go through
To be open to loving youCuz i'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick foolIf I go through with this plan
Then I can forgive myself someday
Turning my back on this life I made
Would I forgive myself if I stayed?Keep telling myself it'll happen when it happens
We aint getting any younger and i'm afraid it'll never happen.
Cuz its the heart that makes the home and i'm bound to be all alone at least for awhile, dear.So to save all this aching, or maybe it's my broken heart in the making
But I just have to look at you and i'm sure what I wanna do Girl, I want to be with youCuz i'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
I'm a lovesick fool
