Fade Out

ACIDCLANK

Girl I got a question needing your attention
Something that you can't avoid Gotta to get a chance to Trying to get an answer
Somewhere in between the noise
Think you got a reason
Everytime you're screaming
Shouting till you got no voice
Don't know where your head is
I don't want to feel this baby
But I got no choice
Tell you what you want from me
Is there somewhere
That you'd rather be?
'Cause everytime that we're alone...
I'm watching it all fade out
I'm feeling my heart grow colder
Bridges are burning down
And I just want to get away
I'm hearing a different sound
I'm hoping the worst is over
Waiting to hit the ground...
Every memory of us, for once was never enough to the dust while...I'm watching it all fade out Standing in the bedroom
Whistle-ing the sametune
How I never walk the walk
Hearing 'bout the problems
How I got to solve them
'Cause you see it's all my fault
Same conversations, same explanations
Yeah but you never gonna have the time
Always come undone

'Cause I'm trying to be someone baby
That I just can't find...
Tell you what you want from me
Is there somewhere
That you'd rather be?

'Cause everytime that we're alone...
I'm watching it all fade out
I'm feeling my heart grow colder
Bridges are burning down
And I just want to get away
I'm hearing a different sound
I'm hoping the worst is over
Waiting to hit the ground...
Every memory of us, for once was never enough
to the dust while...I'm watching it all fade out Yeah, what used to seem so right yeah is fading out of sight
Oh, do you even care?
I'm watching it all fade out
I'm feeling my heart grow colder
Bridges are burning down
And I just want to get away
I'm watching it all fade out
I'm feeling my heart grow colder
Bridges are burning down
And I just want to get away
I'm hearing a different sound
I'm hoping the worst is over
Waiting to hit the ground...
Every memory of us, for once was never enough
to the dust while...I'm watching it all fade out
