Pray on It (feat. Fatt Fool)

Bonk Deville

(Hook)(Fatt Fool)
Jumped off the porch I couldn't wait on it, wait on it a young nigga stayed hungry
I knew them muthafuckas was gonna hate on it hate on it, mama told me pray on it
That's why I do it for my family, I know that they'll never trade on me
Its loyalty over everything, I'm the type of nigga that was raised on it
OG told me calculate my steps,told my mama I think she should pray on it
Stayed ten toes and got it by myself, didn't see it no other way homie
They want my new mixtape in the streets, told them that they gotta wait on it
Having trouble with decisions, told my mama she should pray on it.

(Verse 1) (Bonk Deville)
Feeling like the whole world against me, where will I turn, everywhere I got I get burned
Lost a lot of friends, lost a lot of ends, trying to chase money and a dream but I learned
That I gotta pray for a way, still trying to change my current situation
Use to hustle on the block for new shoes, and new socks but I had to make a change for my babies.
And I started from the bottom, but I'm still at the bottom trying to make it from the bottom to the top
Use to have a lot of problems, not too many options so I let the pistol pop with the hopes I don't drop
I know God gonna make a way for me (hey) and I'm gonna wait on it
On my knees with my head to the sky, Big Mama always told me to pray on it.

(Hook)

(Verse 2)
If you ever been through something, ever had a problem pray on it.
But you gotta have faith, gotta have patience, the blessing's gonna come just wait on it
Let them people talk, that's Satan, sad to say this but they all lack faith
In heaven they have no place (hey) cause they don't never pray
Never seen a man cry till I looked in the mirror, now its a clearer picture
Use to hustle just to try to get rich but, I learned that the hard way, the devil try to take ya
So let's join hands, and let's talk to the Lord, he'll never give us too much when we can't take it
And I know that He was with me when I started taking off, but I never stopped praying
