The Dragon Lies Bleeding (Remastered)

HammerFall

Ride through the valley in thunder and rain the battle is raging, redeem this domain
The Castle of Eden lies silent above darkness surrounded us, away we must goI look through the eyes of the world I see there's a Stranger among us.
Awaiting a sign from above to conquer the power and the gloryEnter the battle, our will to enchain bringing us forward, defeating the pain into the meeting with swords made of steel we're standing together the secret reveals I look through the eyes of the worldI know who's the Stranger among us Awaiting a sign from above
to conquer the power and glory Come across to the Promised Land close your eyes, I will take your hand
Through the river of steel we'll go
When the dragon lies bleedingCome across to the Promised Land
close your eyes, I will take your hand
Through the river of steel we'll go
When the dragon lies bleedingAbove the glory we'll carry on now the time has come to return back home
The setting sun illuminates the dead the battlefield is shining red.Silent lies Eden on top of the moor we're fighting with honor protecting our Lord The last one survivor lies bleeding. I kneel into his heart I settle the steel I look through the eyes of the world there is no Stranger among us.
we'll march to the end of the world and search for the power and the gloryCome across to the Promised Land ------- close your eyes, I will take your hand------ Through the river of steel we'll go ----------/ 4 X
