Colourless Despondency

Forgotten Tomb

Kill me - Take me to the place where my cries will stop forever
And where my memories will drown in the sickness of duskThe shadows of the noose on the wall crosses that of my neck
The weight of this sorrow
The need to end it nowThis useless existence
The will to end every shadow of my past
A life drowned in misery
A life stained by nauseaNo other reason to hang on to a life without a meaning Every dream has fallen to ashes
At one with despondencyAlive but so far away
Left alone in a shallow life Without remorse - without a reason
All my happiness now disappearedMy soul descends into darkness
As Her distant smile appears through the fog
No one was here to dry my tears
No one will cry
A colourless reflection of despondency
