Dying Day

Clay Farmer

I'm living in a dark and dying day
And everything is lost along the way the feeling in my heart is not the same so what's to say?
The pictures of the past are on the wall they'll hang there in the dark until they fall forever I've been lost in long ago and it seems so long to let live a life that I don't live no more and in the saddened sun my life leaves a shadow that'll soon be gone I'm standing in the grave I wait to bleed been tearing out my tongue in misery been choking on the weight of my mistakes though I can't change

and in the saddened sun my life leaves a shadow that'll soon be gone and all I want is one more second chance I live my life under a trance been blinded by the pain of my regret wasted life reliving yesterday
I'm living in a dark and dying day
And everything is lost along the way
the feeling in my heart is not the same
so what's to say?
