Put Your Weapon Down

Garrison Starr

Your heart is not open
I just want to hold you
How can I get close?I hear all the words unspoken
How can I get close
When you won't let go?I could be your shoulder
Cold only gets colder
Will you ever come around?I could be your ally, fighting on the front lines
If you could put your weapon down
Put your weapon downYou scars are on the surface
I just want to hold you
Now you're so exposedI hear all the words unspoken
I can't fix what's broken
If you won't let it showI could be your shoulder
Cold only gets colder
Will you ever come around?I could be your ally, fighting on the front lines
You could put your weapon down
Put your weapon down
Put your weapon downI take down all your walls
I break all of your falls
You're the one who has to try
So lean into me tonight
Come homePut your weapon down
My love, put your weapon downI could be your shoulder
The cold only gets colder
You put your weapon downI could be your ally, fighting on the front lines
Will you put your weapon down?
