Toy Soldier

Keri Hilson

So I guess I fell in love with a toy soldier
He told me that our love would be marching on
Hoorah, hoorah
He told me that our love was mighty strong
Hoorah, hoorah
And guess I believed you, 'cause you were my baby
Why would I doubt you when you said you loved me?
But I didn't know you were the enemy
But the only who made me cry is you
And the only one I had to fight is you
And it was you who told me
He said that I would never have to fight again
He said that I would never have to cry again
He said he'd had been to the battle field
My heart is safe with him, all my trust I gave it to him
So I guess I fell in love with a toy soldier
You told me that you would take care of me
You lied, you lied
You told me that you was the best for me
You lied, you lied
'Cause you came up empty, I feel like you're tripping me
Everything you said you'd give me, you couldn't give me
Yeah, oh
'Cause the only one who made me cry is you, whoa
And the only one I had to fight is you
And it was you who told me
He said that I would never have to fight again
He said that I would never have to cry again
He said he'd had been to the battle field
And my heart is safe with him, all my trust I gave it to him
So I guess I fell in love, I fell in love with a toy soldier
I let down my guard 'cause you were my guard
But who protects me know?
'Cause I gave you my heart and you tore it apart
Oh, you let me down, oh baby
He said that I would never have to fight again
He said that I would never have to cry again
He said he'd had been to the battlefield
My heart is safe with him, all my trust I gave it to him

So I guess I fell in love with a toy soldier
I gave all of my love to him, hoorah, hoorah
I gave all of my love to him, hoorah, hoorah
