At Dewy Prime

Communic

The vision was a test of deprived physical strength
Dipped in the ocean to be born again
My soul was naked without a surface
Then fingers folded around me and gave me a shellThis ship on its travel carried meaningful thoughts
Traveled over me and left their minds
Then a shadow unbound me and stretched me with skin
And adorned my soul with the memories of them, themSailor, sailor burning bright
On the stormy sea at night
Golden heart and undying pride
Their heart lies buried in a bay of NorwayBring back the memories
Bring me back in time
Bring back the colors
And the scent of meadow landsBring back the memories
Bring me back in time
Bring back the colors
And the scent of meadow landsAt dewy prime
Bring back the souls of the dead
At dewy prime
Bring back the soulsAt dewy prime
Bring back the souls of the dead
At dewy prime
Bring back the soulsBring me back in time to their homeland
Bring back their souls together with me
Bring back their souls to their homeland
Bring me back in time together forevermoreIn remembrance of this kind
That once came to round our land
What immortal hand of time
Made a frame and locked the symmetryOur eyes contemplated
A transmission to the soul
Spectacle of this universe
The night veils its sadness in bloomOne day will come
Suppress all the dark thoughts
Spirits of our destructive time
Even into plains of etherBring back the memories
Bring me back in time
Bring back the colors
And the scent of meadow landsBring back the memories
Bring me back in time
Bring back the colors

And the scent of meadow landsAt dewy prime
Bring back the souls of the dead
At dewy prime
Bring back the soulsAt dewy prime
Bring back the souls of the dead
At dewy prime
Bring back the soulsBring me back in time to their homeland
Bring back their souls together with me
Bring back their souls to their homeland
Bring me back in time together forevermoreThe vision was a test of deprived physical strength
Dipped in the ocean to be born again
My soul was naked without a surface
Then fingers folded around me and gave me a shellThis ship on its travel carried meaningful thoughts
Traveled over me and left their minds
Then a shadow unbound me and stretched me with skin
And adorned my soul with the memories of them

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/