Honore

Dick Prall

Honore, itâ€™s all changed
Pull your car up to the porch
And take all your things
To the other side of town
Itâ€™s been strange
Having you around
Since the autumn days
Kept you tucked away
Honore

Honore, around your waist
Were the hands that held you up
When you didnâ€™t want to dance
Music seemed to sound
Like it moved to fast
Dizzy from the ground
That underneath you swayed
Or how you always claimed
Honore

You didnâ€™t want to dance
Music seemed to sound
Like it moved to fast
Dizzy from the ground
That underneath you swayed
Or how you always claimed
Waiting for the walls to break
More stories that you couldnâ€™t shake
Honore
