Road Rash

Cockpunch!

it's a nice day for a drive automotivation the air is getting clear and the time is getting near for us to roll gotta watch my style cause god it's almost over got a little more room to try it hopefully I've walked this earth for twenty years and now my mind is floating... out to sea
gonna hit the van man you just don't understand total aggravation rolling down the highway doing ninety going my way in control gotta watch those corners in the stretch of danger a problem could arise eventually I've walked this earth for twenty years and now my mind is floating.... out to sea every time I look into the north wind I can't find meaning just a rhyme I don't know but I've been told that good things come with time...
Let's go!
