This Time Is The Last Time

MAE

Save yourself because
The only thing that matters
Is that you get away from the pain
And the thought of losing your mind
Don't blame yourself
It was everyone around you
Who made you act this way
There's the stage and your chance
To watch it go downDon't fake yourself into ever
Ever thinking about yesterday
That was then, this is now
Don't call it undone
Don't take what you've been dealt
You can exit out the
Back and make your getaway
Before anyone can see the Damage you have doneThis time is the last time so
Be here, here now
This time is the last time
Somehow make it throughState your case you've Got everyone's attention
What can you say? Thanks or forget
What you've been given
Take your place, do you think that
You deserve the best of everything?
We don't get why you're here
Can you figure it out?This time is the last time
So be here, here nowYou've got to get away, oh I get Lost in the thought of losing you
You've got to get away
I know it's a dream but it
Must be true, wave now goodbye
It's the lesson that you've been given
You can always move on to better thingsThis time is the last time
So be here, but be here now
This time is the last time somehow
This time is the last time
So be here, but be here now
This time is the last time

Somehow make it through
