Anaesthetic

Thomston

Living on Anaesthetic
No one seems to get it
Numb to the sensation
Living on Anaesthetic
Not the way you chose to have it
It's too cold to care
It's only fairWaiting for a rendezvous
It's getting heavier the longer you are waiting for it,
Pulling through
Does it smell like it died in the gutter
And it's getting you
You're tied to your stay away mother
Cause there's no one else
You're at your wits endLosing feeling in your finger tips
And now you're wondering if anyone is showing
And you're losing it
All you ask is for anyone to care
The sun it sets
And now you're walking and the cars flirt with you
Direct your stare
You're at your wits endOh, Living on Anaesthetic
No one seems to get it
It's too much to take
And now you're numb to the sensation
Living on Anaesthetic
Not the way you chose to have it
It's too cold to care
It's only fairSwum right out your depths
Now you're drowned and you go down feeling
Second-hand regret
Consequence and self-defense
Retrace your steps
You'll find where it all went wrong
Have someone to blame
You hope it's a name
You already know
You're at your wits endYeah, Living on Anaesthetic
No one seems to get it
It's too much to take

And now you're numb to the sensation
Living on Anaesthetic
Not the way you chose to have it
It's too cold to care
It's only fairIt's only fair
Sick of all the stares
Wait until you're dead
Till they pretend to care
It's only fair
Wait until you (only air)When you're all alone
The ceiling is gone
Chill right to the bone
Lost without a home
When you're alone
You feel you are numb
Baby you will mend,
You're at your wits endLiving on Anaesthetic
It's too much to take
Not the way you chose to have it
It's too cold to care
It's only fairLiving on Anaesthetic
No one seems to get it
It's too much to take
Not the way you chose to have it
It's too cold to care
It's only fair
