Breathe

Greenwheel

I played the fool today
And I can see us vanishing into the crowd
Longing for home again
But home is a feeling I buried in youI'm alright, I'm alright
It only hurts when I breatheAnd I can't ask for things to be still again
No I can't ask for you
To offer the world through your eyes
Longing for home again
But home is a feeling I buried in youI'm alright, I'm alright
It only hurts when I breathe
I'm alright, I'm alright
It only hurts when I breatheMy window through which nothing hides
And everything sings
And I'm counting the signs
And cursing the miles in betweenBut home is a feeling I buried in you
That I buried in youI'm alright, I'm alright
It only hurts when I breathe
I'm alright, I'm alright
It only hurts when I breatheWhen I breathe
Yeah, it only hurts when I breathe
When I breathe
It only hurts when I breathe
